- 1. On 15 September 1953, the occupation of the barracks installation on Schumke Lake in Sperenberg had apparently decreased. Engineer troops and motor transport soldiers were still quartered there. Most of the tank trucks recently seen in the barracks area except 10 had left. Four motorboats were seen in front of a shed. On 28 and 29 August, soldiers practiced with 4 assault boats on Schumke Lake, aiming toward the shore from the middle of the lake. At 11 a.m. on 30 August, about 250 soldiers entered the camp on Hegesee Lake from the direction of Trebbin, coming from a practice march. On 12 September, about 100 soldiers with red-bordered black epaulets were firing at the ranges west of the barracks installation. On 14 September, about 80 men including some with gas masks on engaged in field training in the vicinity of the firing range. 1
- 2. On 17 September, the Eisenbahn Pionier Kaserne was occupied by about 1,500 soldiers wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery and motor transport insignia. About 80 trucks most of which mounted AA machine guns were in the new shed. An additional open shed was under construction. 2
